

Ore Control Geologist

Copper Mountain Mine is a large scale open pit copper mine located in south central British Columbia. The mine has evolved into a mature and highly efficient operation with a long term mine plan and significant opportunity for mine life extension. If you like to work with people in a working environment to deliver results, and you enjoy an active outdoor lifestyle with easy access to city life, this could be your opportunity.

This is a temporary position, reporting to Chief Engineer, the successful candidate will be responsible for determining the flow of material from the mine, providing ore control boundaries to the mine planners.

Responsibilities and Duties

- Advise and guide production to optimize ore management and extraction.
- Geological mapping of drill hole cuttings and lithological boundaries.
- Perform QA/QC sampling controls.
- Utilize geological information to update resource models.
- Perform reconciliation calculations for block models.
- Liaise with assay and environmental team to ensure protocols are followed.

Qualifications and Skills

- Bachelor's degree in Geology, Geological Engineering, or Mining Engineering
- 2-5 years' experience working in ore control is preferred
- Proficiency with Microsoft Office software required, as is proficiency with Surpac software an asset
- Ability to work in and with cross-functional teams.
- Ability to collaborate with other support groups.
- Strong work ethic; ability to excel in a fast paced environment.

There is no camp provision at Copper Mountain Mine. This position works 7 days on, 7 days off. All qualified persons are invited to apply. Candidates must be legally entitled to work in Canada.

You will be required to participate in a pre-employment drug & alcohol screening and a medical.

Send resume outlining related qualifications to hr@cumtnop.com (in either word or pdf format).

We wish to thank all applicants for their interest and effort in applying for the position; however, only candidates selected for interviews will be contacted.

Your application to this posting is deemed to be your consent to the collection, use and necessary disclosure of personal information for the purposes of recruitment. Copper Mountain Mine respects the privacy of all applicants and the confidentiality of personal information.